

Dr. BHAVANA MARU

Born on 25.10.1960 at Gujrat. Professional Artist | Writer | Poet | Calligrapher | Cultural & Spiritual Art Practitioner India

Dr. Bhavana Maru is a multidisciplinary Indian artist, writer, poet, calligrapher, photographer, interior designer and cultural practitioner whose creative journey explores the profound relationship between art, literature, spirituality, mythology and ancient wisdom. She is the Founder, Director and CEO of Bodhi Art and Culture, an initiative dedicated to preserving, interpreting and presenting global cultural heritage through contemporary artistic expression. Her work reflects a deep engagement with sacred geometry, mandalas, spiritual symbolism, traditional art forms, Brahmi script, Vedic wisdom and the timeless stories of human civilization. With a strong interest in art history, mythology, philosophy and the mysteries of the universe, Dr. Maru transforms ancient knowledge and symbolic traditions into contemporary visual experiences. Her artistic practice ranges from fine art and miniature art to folk art, calligraphy and mural art, often incorporating meditative and contemplative elements. Her distinctive body of work is particularly associated with meditative, healing and blessing visual art, where colours, forms and sacred symbols become a language of inner reflection and spiritual exploration. Her series "Cosmic Bliss", comprising 55 artworks, represents her continuing exploration of universal signs, symbols and the interconnectedness of existence. A passionate advocate of cultural preservation, Dr. Maru has devoted significant attention to Brahmi script and ancient Indian knowledge traditions, seeking to reconnect contemporary audiences with the intellectual and artistic heritage of the past. Her creative journey has received international recognition and numerous awards, reflecting her contribution to art, literature and cultural expression. She has also been recognised as a record-holder for her achievements.
